

Motivate your child to rediscover the joy of learning

FAMILY matters!

Date: 20 May 2017 (Saturday)

Time: 9am – 11am

Venue: Rivervale Primary School (PAL Room, Level 2)

Synopsis:

The frantic pace and competitive education system in Singapore have left many parents breathless and anxious about their children's academic performance as well as their future. More often than not, efforts to motivate their children's academic pursuits have been met with resistance. At times, the well-meaning efforts have also affected their relationship with the children. According to Dr. Carl Dweck, a renowned psychologist, parents who are learning-oriented instead of performance-oriented, are better able to motivate their children in their learning.

Come and learn at this interactive workshop with insightful discussions, role-plays and practical examples:

- Helping your child enjoy learning
- Learning-oriented vs Performance-oriented Parent
- Effort vs. Ability: Which do we emphasise?
- Intrinsic motivation vs External rewards

About the speaker:

Mr Halbert Louis has a Master's degree in Counselling. Since 2012, he has been organising corporate mental wellness workshops and family oriented programmes. He has conducted numerous parenting workshops in different schools for the past 5 years. In 2014, he obtained his accreditation in Triple P: Positive Parenting Programme. As a registered counsellor with the Singapore Association for Counselling, he provides counselling services in the areas of marriage and family counselling.

Note: Please be at the workshop 15 minutes before 9am for registration.

Reply Slip

Family Matters@School: Motivate your child to rediscover the joy of learning

Please tick

Able to attend

Able to attend with spouse

Unable to attend

Name of Child: _____

Class: _____

Name of Parent: _____

Contact: _____

Email: _____

Please place the reply slip in the white box at the security post by 16 May 2017.